PASCAL RIOULT
Artistic Director / Choreographer

A former track and field athlete in France, Mr. Rioul came to the United States on a fellowship from the French Ministry of Culture to study modern dance in 1981. After performing with the companies of May O'Donnell and Paul Sanasardo he was invited to join the Martha Graham Dance Company. He interpreted many of the most prestigious roles in the Graham repertory as a principal dancer, and in 1990, Ms. Graham created the central role (Death Figure) in her ballet Eye of the Goddess for him. Mr. Rioul performed opposite Mikhail Baryshnikov and Joyce Herring in El Penitente and was featured in two television specials: “Martha Graham in Japan” and “Five Dances by Martha Graham,” filmed at the Paris Opera.

Since starting his own company, RIOULT Dance NY in 1994, Mr. Rioul has dedicated his energies to developing his own choreographic style and nurturing a robust ensemble of dancers. Of his work, Black Diamond, Anna Kisselgoff of The New York Times wrote, “...he has met the challenge of comparison with George Balanchine.”

Mr. Rioul's works have been commissioned by the American Dance Festival; Cal Performances Zellerbach Hall in Berkeley, CA; the Ballet du Nord in Roubaix, France; the Geneva Ballet, Switzerland; The Orchestra of St. Luke's; the Gordon and Harriet Greenfield Foundation; the Grand Marnier Foundation; the Théâtre de Saint Quentin en Yvelines France; Lehigh University in Bethlehem, PA; and Marymount Manhattan College; among others. He is a two-time recipient of the Choo-San Goh Award for Choreography.

JOYCE HERRING

A founding member of RIOULT Dance NY, Ms. Herring danced with the company until 2004 while holding the positions of Rehearsal Director, Regisseur; and in 2008-2009, Executive Director. Ms. Herring and Mr. Rioul met while dancing with the Martha Graham Dance Company, where she was a principal dancer until 1999; they were married in 1988. During her career with the Graham Company she interpreted many leading roles including Lamentation, Deep Song, Jocasta in Night Journey, the Bride in Appalachian Spring, the Virgin in Primitive Mysteries, Heretic, Joan of Arc in Seraphic Dialogue, Helen of Troy in Clytemnestra, and the Conversation of Lovers in Acts of Light, among others.

A former director of the Martha Graham School, Ms. Herring remains a regisseur of the Graham Trust. She has been on the faculties of the Conservatory of Dance at SUNY Purchase and Marymount Manhattan College, and has taught as a guest teacher at the Juilliard School, Rudra Bejart (Lausanne), Alfredo Corvino's Dance Circle, the Neighborhood Playhouse, Harvard Summer Dance Center, North Carolina School of the Arts, Ballet du Nord, the Lyon Opera Ballet, the Conservatoire Nationale Superieure de Musique de Lyon, the Geneva Ballet and the Ballet de Lorraine, Interlochen Academy of the Performing Arts, and more. Ms. Herring continues to stage Mr. Rioul’s work on companies and universities throughout the U.S. and abroad.
AUDIENCE & COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT

RIOUlt Dance NY offers a broad array of community engagement activities led by Pascal Rioul and Company members. Engagement activities take place prior to or following performances, deepening audience relationships to the company and the work.

Pre and Post Performance Talk

Pascal Rioul travels with the company and enjoys discussing his work with audiences. His charm and charisma make him an engaging conversationalist. Pre and post performance talks provide audiences with context for Rioul’s dances and offer a glimpse into his creative process. Company members often join Mr. Rioul onstage during post performance talks.

Master Classes

RIOUlt Dance NY’s Graham-based master classes are available to advanced, pre-professional, and professional dancers as well as college and university students. Classes are conducted by Pascal Rioul, Joyce Herring, or one of the many experienced teaching artists who dance with the Company. On occasion, local dance company members and advanced college dance students are invited to take RIOULT Dance NY’s company class.

Workshops

RIOUlt Dance NY tailors workshops based on each community’s needs and interests. Prior to his career as a professional dancer and choreographer, Pascal Rioul was an educator; underscoring his commitment to education and his ability to craft relevant, meaningful, and fun workshops. Company members and teaching artists have experience working with varied groups; including at-risk youth, senior citizens, musicians, athletes, and students ranging from elementary to college-aged.

Lecture Demonstrations

These lively narrated programs offer audiences a behind-the-scenes perspective, illustrating how dancers train and how choreography is created. Discussions also include musical choices, lighting, scenic design, and other elements required to complete the theatrical experience. Audience members are invited onstage to learn and perform a short movement sequence from RIOULT Dance NY’s repertory. The work is then performed in full by the Company, followed by a Q&A session.

Family Program Workshops

These workshops are based on RIOULT Dance NY’s family-friendly ballet Fables (see Family Programming). Several weeks prior to the performance, RIOULT Dance NY teaching artists conduct a series of workshops for elementary-aged children. These workshops culminate in an audition, from which 12-30 children are selected to dance alongside Company dancers in a public community performance.
TOURING PROGRAMS

RIOULT Dance NY tours a broad range of repertory. Suggested program combinations are described below; individual dance descriptions follow:

From Purple to Pärt

From Purple to Pärt pairs two of Pascal Rioult’s dances, Te Deum (2000) and Fire in the Sky (2017), that together make a powerful impact transporting the viewer to different times and places in Rioult’s artistic trajectory. As individual works, each piece resonates with the audience in distinctly personal ways. Explore Dance recommends “Don’t see the show alone; it will give you something to talk about.”

The Master Series

The Master Series includes three dances—Nostalghia, Wein, and Bolero. Pascal studied and explored each of these composers in depth during his choreographic process. Of this series The Daily Gazette asserted, “Rioult’s experimentations with the music stands as some of the best,” in a program they described as “vibrant, soulful, and painterly.”

Bach Dances

Bach Dances is a series of powerful dances set to Bach masterpieces. Characterized by a unity of music, movement, and art (animated projections), this program includes Views of the Fleeting World, City, Polymorphous, and Celestial Tides. When possible, RIOULT Dance NY endeavors to perform this program with live music by local chamber orchestras. Recent collaborations include the Manhattan School of Music, the Bethlehem Bach Orchestra in PA, and the Indianapolis Chamber Orchestra at The Center for the Performing Arts in Carmel, IN.

WOMEN ON THE EDGE...Unsung Heroines of the Trojan War

WOMEN ON THE EDGE...Unsung Heroines of the Trojan War is a trilogy of dances inspired by Euripides’ tragic heroines Iphigenia, Helen of Troy, and Cassandra. Pascal Rioult’s interpretations of these timeless stories highlight not only grace, strength, and resilience of women in society but also the futility and immorality of war. The program includes Iphigenia, On Distant Shores, and Cassandra’s Curse set to commissioned music by contemporary American composers Michael Torke, Aaron Kernis, and Richard Danielpour respectively.

Custom Program

In addition to the programs above, you may create your own program in consultation with the company based on your community’s needs and interests. Please see repertory descriptions on the following page.
Fire in the Sky

Fire in the Sky is a blazing homage to Rioult’s early dance club days when the dynamic hits of Deep Purple inspired him to pursue a life lived in constant motion. “It gives the sense of being part of something that makes you feel alive. It’s a reality, and an Experience.” – Critical Dance.

Running Time: 35 minutes

---

Te Deum

Te Deum, set to the music of Estonian composer Arvo Pärt, is a reimagining of one of Pascal’s earliest works and possesses a spiritual aura as the central character journeys toward truth and beauty. Roberta on the Arts found it “magnetic, stunning, and strong”.

Running Time: 35 minutes

Les Noces

Les Noces, a sexually charged deconstruction of the marriage ritual, explores the primal instincts behind the traditional rite of passage. Provocative movement and unabashed energy permeate strong structural composition. Backstage, described the work as a “ravishing danced deconstruction of sexual discovery.”

Running Time: 25 minutes

Prelude to Night

Prelude to Night is a triptych danced to three short Ravel orchestral works. This surreal piece is linked by the physical presence of the central female character who journeys through time and space; that of imagination, dreams, and nightmares. Prelude to Night is a transitory passage from one state to another.

Running Time: 28 minutes
Nostalghia

Nostalghia, inspired by the work of film director Andrei Tarkovsky and with a commissioned score by Russian composer Polina Nazaykinskaya, Nostalghia juxtaposes the fast paced, fragmented, impersonal form of the contemporary world we live in with a more contemplative, holistic and humanistic form.
Running Time: 24 minutes

Wein

Wien, set to Ravel's “La Valse”, depicts European society between the two World Wars. The outward civility—illustrated by the Viennese waltz—fails to conceal the internal whirlwind spiraling into social disintegration. Backstage remarked, “Rioul t takes the familiar score of ‘La Valse’ and stretches the imagination to unthought-of movement regions, thus creating a spine-chilling work of choreography.”
Running Time: 13 minutes

Bolero

Bolero is a bold and unexpected interpretation of Ravel’s famous musical score. A perennial sensation with audiences and critics alike, this electric piece was featured in the 2005 City Center Fall for Dance Festival. The unrelenting crescendo of energy creates a riveting tour de force that speaks to the essence of the music.
Running Time: 16 minutes

Street Singer

Street Singer, Celebrating the Life of Edith Piaf takes us from Piaf’s humble beginnings on the streets of Paris to her international fame on Broadway through the many twists and turns of her colorful life. A singer, accompanied by a live band, personifies Edith while the dancers inhabit different characters that accompany her through life and in her songs.
Running Time: 60 minutes
City
City, set to J.S. Bach’s “Sonata for Violin and Harpsichord #6 in G major,” features animated projections with realistic images of a city, which progressively deconstruct and distort as the human drama unfolds on stage. Alistair Macaulay of The New York Times commented, “[City] responds without slavishness to multiple layers of the music...catch[ing] Bach’s oppositions and connections of emotionally fraught lines and mathematical structures.”
Running Time: 21 minutes

Views of the Fleeting World
Views of the Fleeting World was inspired by the woodcut prints of the Japanese master Hiroshige and set to J.S. Bach’s definitive exploration of fugal counterpoint, “The Art of Fugue.” This episodic work explores the ephemeral quality of all living things and captures the grace and emotional depth of seemingly simple elements. Gus Solomons, Jr. described the work for the Gay City News as “elegant...striking...sensuous.”
Running Time: up to 35 minutes

Polymorphous
Polymorphous, set to selections from J.S. Bach’s “The Well Tempered Clavier,” Polymorphous explores the subjectivity of perception through movement and technology. The work takes on the very idea of polymorphism referring to the act of something that assumes or occurs in various forms.
Running time: 15 minutes

Celestial Tides
Celestial Tides, a classical modern dance set to Bach’s “Brandenburg Concerto No. 6,” is formally structured to express joyful dancing filled with underlying emotional content. Phillip Gardener of Oberon’s Grove proclaimed, “Bach’s Brandenburg Concerti have often inspired choreographers, and Pascal Riault again showed his mastery of movement here.”
Running Time: 22 minutes
Iphigenia
Iphigenia, based on Euripides’ tragedy, depicts the central character’s transfiguration from innocent girl to transcendental heroine. This gripping dance drama is set to commissioned music by Michael Torke. Darryl Wood of NYC Dance Stuff noted, “Pascal Rioult has woven a tapestry of tragedy, filled with loss, longing, angst and emotion.” Running time: 30 minutes

On Distant Shores
ON DISTANT SHORES...A Redemption Fantasy is based on Euripides’ Helen, a lesser-known narrative where the infamous Helen never actually goes to Troy. Instead, a mirage of her likeness causes the needless and tragic war. Rioult aims to redeem Helen of Troy in this lush work set to a commissioned score by Pulitzer Prize-winning composer Aaron Jay Kernis. Running Time: 27 minutes.

Cassandra’s Curse
Based largely on Euripides’ The Trojan Women, Cassandra’s Curse examines the internal dilemma and psychological tragedy of prophetess Cassandra. As the myth goes, her curse is a gift of prophecy that allows her to foresee the unfortunate fate of Troy, though no one believes her. Set to a commissioned score by Richard Danielpour, Rioult’s interpretation of the myth serves as a metaphor for contemporary conflicts and underscores the futility and immorality of war. Running Time: 30 minutes

Transgressions
All family programs involve local students in the creative process through a series of performance-based workshops, providing a special opportunity to perform on stage with Company dancers.

This evening-length, family-friendly piece highlights the timeless relevance of the age-old tales of Jean de La Fontaine. Based on the work of Aesop and the Indian fables of Bidpai, Pascal Rioult has taken La Fontaine’s adaptation one step further by adding movement to the rhythmic narrative. Originally created in 1997, Rioult re-imagined this dance with new costumes, lighting, and choreography set to new music by Paul Salerni. Audiences will enjoy familiar fables such as the “Crow and the Fox”, the “Tortoise and the Hare”, and the “Ant and the Grasshopper”.

Running Time: varies based on number of fables performed, up to 45 minutes.
